

TOPIC 2: QUR'ANIC RECITATION – SURATUL A'LA (Q87:1–19)

1. Introduction

Suratul A'la (The Most High) is a Makkan Surah with 19 verses. It begins with the command to glorify the name of the Lord, the Most High, who creates, proportions, determines and guides.

2. Key Themes and Translation Summary

- Glorify the name of your Lord, the Most High – who creates and proportions, who determines and guides, who brings out the pasture and then makes it dark stubble.
- The Prophet will be made to recite and will not forget (except what Allah wills).
- Remind, for the reminder benefits the believers; the one who fears Allah will take heed.
- The wretched one who enters the great Fire will be punished; the one who purifies himself, remembers his Lord and prays will succeed.
- This is in the earlier scriptures – the scriptures of Ibrahim and Musa.

3. Moral Lessons

- Glorify and remember Allah constantly.
- Success comes through purification (Tazkiyah), remembrance and prayer.
- The message of Islam is consistent with earlier revelations.
- Prefer the Hereafter to the temporary life of this world.

4. Summary

Suratul A'la calls believers to glorify Allah, purify themselves, remember Him and pray. True success is in the Hereafter.
