

TOPIC 7: RULES OF IDGHAM AND IKHFA (REVISION AND PRACTICE)

1. Idgham (Merging)

Idgham means merging one letter into the following letter. For Nun Sakinah and Tanwin, Idgham occurs with the letters ■■■■■ (Yarmaloon). There is Idgham with Ghunnah (nasal sound) for ■■■■ and without Ghunnah for ■■.

2. Ikhfa (Concealment)

Ikhfa means hiding or concealing the Nun Sakinah or Tanwin with a light nasal sound when followed by one of the 15 Ikhfa letters (the remaining letters after Izhar, Idgham and Iqlab). The tongue does not fully touch the articulation point of Nun; a gentle Ghunnah is heard.

3. Quick Review of Related Rules

- Izhar – clear pronunciation of Nun/Tanwin before throat letters (■■■■■).
- Iqlab – changing Nun/Tanwin into Mim (with Ghunnah) before Ba.
- Similar rules exist for Mim Sakinah (Idgham Shafawi, Ikhfa Shafawi, Izhar Shafawi).

4. Recitation Drills

Practise selected verses containing Idgham and Ikhfa. Read slowly, identify the rule, apply Ghunnah where required, and seek correction from a teacher. Consistency comes with regular drill.

5. Summary

Idgham merges Nun/Tanwin into Yarmaloon letters; Ikhfa conceals them with Ghunnah before the 15 letters. Revision and practice of these rules improve fluency and accuracy.
