

TOPIC 5: CIVIC VIRTUES

1. Meaning of Civic Virtues

Civic virtues are good qualities and habits that help citizens contribute positively to society and support democracy and peace. They are the moral foundation of good citizenship.

2. Key Civic Virtues

- Honesty – telling the truth, not cheating or stealing; building trust.
- Discipline – self-control, respect for rules and time, orderly behaviour.
- Integrity – consistency between words and actions; doing the right thing even when no one is watching.
- Cooperation – working with others for common goals; teamwork.
- Tolerance – accepting differences of opinion, religion, ethnicity and culture without hostility.

3. Why Civic Virtues Matter

They reduce corruption and conflict, strengthen institutions, and make communities safer and more prosperous. Schools, families and religious bodies all help to teach and reinforce these virtues.

4. Summary

Civic virtues such as honesty, discipline, integrity, cooperation and tolerance are essential for good citizenship and a healthy society. They should be practised daily at home, school and in public life.
