

TOPIC 4: QUR'ANIC RECITATION – SURATUL LAYL (Q92:1–21)

1. Introduction

Suratul Layl (The Night) is a Makkan Surah with 21 verses. It contrasts two paths: the one who gives and fears Allah, and the one who is miserly and denies the best.

2. Key Themes

- Oaths by the night, the day and the creation of male and female.
- Your efforts are diverse.
- As for the one who gives, fears Allah and believes in the best – We will ease him toward ease.
- As for the one who withholds, considers himself self-sufficient and denies the best – We will ease him toward hardship; his wealth will not avail him when he falls.
- Guidance is from Allah; the Hereafter and the first life belong to Him.
- Warning of the blazing Fire for the most wretched who denied and turned away; the most righteous who gave his wealth to purify himself will be far from it – he will be satisfied.

3. Rewards of Good Deeds

Giving, Taqwa and belief lead to ease and safety from the Fire. Miserliness and denial lead to hardship. The one who spends to purify himself will be content.

4. Summary

Suratul Layl shows two ways of life and their outcomes. Generosity, fear of Allah and belief bring ease and reward; the opposite brings hardship.
