

JSS 3 NIGERIAN HISTORY – FIRST TERM

TOPIC 7: ANTI-CORRUPTION STRUGGLES

1. EFCC and ICPC

The Economic and Financial Crimes Commission (EFCC) and the Independent Corrupt Practices and Other Related Offences Commission (ICPC) are key anti-corruption agencies. They investigate and prosecute economic and financial crimes and corrupt practices. Their effectiveness depends on independence, capacity and the justice system.

2. Whistleblowing Policy

Whistleblowing encourages people to report corruption and fraud, sometimes with protection and rewards. It can expose hidden wrongdoing but requires safe channels and follow-up action so that reporters are not victimised and cases are properly handled.

3. Challenges and Citizen Role

Corruption drains resources and weakens trust. Fighting it needs strong institutions, political will and citizens who refuse to give or take bribes and who support transparency.

4. Summary

EFCC, ICPC and whistleblowing are tools in Nigeria's anti-corruption struggle. Success depends on institutions and everyday integrity.

End of Topic 7