

TOPIC 1: PHYSICAL FITNESS AND BODY CONDITIONING

1. Meaning of Physical Fitness

Physical fitness is the ability of the body to carry out daily activities with vigour and without undue fatigue, and still have energy for emergencies and leisure. Body conditioning is training that improves strength, endurance, flexibility and overall fitness.

2. Benefits of Physical Fitness

- Stronger heart, lungs and muscles
- Better posture, balance and coordination
- Weight management and reduced risk of lifestyle diseases
- Improved mood, confidence and mental health
- Better performance in sports and daily work
- Faster recovery from illness or injury

3. Factors that Influence Physical Fitness

- Age and sex
- Heredity / body type
- Nutrition and hydration
- Regular exercise and rest
- Health status and lifestyle (e.g. smoking, inactivity)
- Environment and access to facilities

4. Summary

Physical fitness supports health and performance. Benefits are many; fitness is influenced by lifestyle, heredity and environment. Regular conditioning improves it.

End of Topic 1